Volume XLI, Number 9, January 1987

8,942 Give to Auburn

A record 8,942 alumni and friends made gifts to Auburn through the various programs of the Alumni and Development Office in fiscal year 1985-86. In this special issue of The Alumnews, we recognize those donors, each of whom made his or her gift through the Auburn University Foundation, which was established in 1960 to receive all gifts to the university.

A listing of donors begins on page 2. The first listing includes donors to all development programs conducted at the university with the exception of the Auburn Generations Fund, which ended in September 1985, but to which alumni and friends continue to make gifts as they complete their pledges made in that campaign. The donors to that special program, are listed separately beginning on page 26.

Following in another listing are the donors who completed their pledges to the Generations Fund during fiscal year 1985-86.

Other lists recognize donors whose gifts to Auburn reach club categories. The clubs begin with The Century Club, whose 2046 members makes it the largest club. To qualify for The Century Club, donors must give between $100 and $299 to academic programs each year. The second largest club with 917 donors is the President's Club, honoring donors who give at least $1,000 during the year. The other clubs are The Pacesetters Club, with 394 donors making gifts between $300 and $499, and The Dean's Club, 324 members, whose gifts range from $500 to $999.

For the first time this year, the Alumni and Development Office is recognizing Special Donors who have made gifts to university departments and programs of $5,000 and more. You'll find those donors on page 25.

In addition to the listing of names in the various categories, we're providing some charts that we hope will give you information about the ever-growing support for Auburn and where it comes from. For instance, on the chart on this page you'll find details of the total Auburn support which came in during 1985-86. Opposite is a breakdown of alumni donors by class year. The Class of 1935 had the largest percentage of participation with 20.67 percent of its members making a gift in fiscal

1985-1986 Fiscal Year

Alumni and Development Office - 12/82/96 - 008 & 009

Total $14,542,895

Total includes miscellaneous Association & GAF Activities

EXPLAINING THE CHART—Categories in the chart above include: Auburn Annual Giving, which is made up of Annual Giving Mailings (including constituency mailings), parents' mailings, phonathons, reunion related donations, and the Samford Society. The Auburn Generations Fund, which includes any gifts to the Auburn Generations Fund Drive made prior to September 30, 1985 and any pledge payments received on pledges which were made before September 30, 1985. Special Gifts are made up of any Foundation gift or pledge not otherwise noted above and includes capital campaigns (such as the library), fund drives (humanities, etc.), athletic scholarships, miscellaneous athletic donations, any gifts not solicited through Auburn Annual Giving, and wills and bequests. Auburn University Support includes gifts made directly through the Bursar's Office and payments and pledges on executive suites. Greater Auburn Fund is made up of payments for GAF ticket priority levels and the amenity portion of the athletic scholarships. Association money includes all dues payments, computer services payments, mail reimbursements, reunion reimbursements, tour program receipts, ticket sales, etc. Only the first three categories (Auburn Annual Giving, Auburn Generations Fund, and Special Gifts) are eligible for recognition.

1985-86. The Class of 1948 had the largest amount of money given—$375,908.84. The Class of 1972 led the number of donors with 173. The largest average gift came from the Class of 1926 with $4,945.68.

On page 17 you'll find a chart showing the amount of money given in the state of Alabama in a breakdown by county. Alabama, of course, provided the largest number of contributions coming into the university. But there are also some surprises in the chart on page 18 showing gifts by state. Although Georgia follows Alabama in number of alumni, it does not follow Alabama in total gift-giving to Auburn. Instead, New York is second on the list with $971,102.50 and Georgia comes third with $709,965.25, followed by Florida with $223,436.50. Vermont brought up the rear with no money.

The largest number of donors, naturally, came in Alabama with 4,948, followed by Georgia with 1,164, and Florida with 675. The largest average gift came from the state of New York, at $17,036.88, followed by Indiana with $7,312.50, Michigan with $3,633.59, and Arkansas with $1,474.28.

Within Alabama, Jefferson County as the largest county in the state led the categories of the amount given ($1,628,719.67) and number of donors (1,358). Montgomery County followed in terms of amount of money given ($1,204,054.16). Lee County followed second in number of donors with 930, while Montgomery County was third with 584. The largest average gift came from Walker County with $3,498.80, followed closely by Covington County with $3,400.76. The third largest average gift came in Cullman County with $2,409.

The article below introduces the Alumni and Development Office's newest support program, The Samford Society, which is being established to provide an opportunity for the recognition of Auburn's most recent graduates' participation in development programs.

Auburn Launches Samford Society For '82-86 Grads

In mid-January, the Auburn Alumni and Development Office launched the Samford Society, an organization for Auburn's most recent graduates. Only those graduates who have completed their Auburn degrees within the last five years will be eligible for membership; however, parents of graduates can give their eligible children membership in the Society. This month the Classes of 1982-1986 will receive invitations to become members and make a four-year commitment to support the university.

As a member of the Samford Society, a recent graduate pledges to make a $25 donation the first year and to increase the amount $25 for each of the remaining three years so that in the fourth year, he or she will be giving an annual contribution of $100 and be eligible for the Century Club. All money given to Auburn through the Samford Society will be used for scholarships. The motto of the Samford Society will be "Maintaining Auburn Distinction."

The Alumni & Development Office believes that the young alumni will have a special interest in funding scholarships. "An increase in scholarships will allow Auburn to recruit top-flight students to maintain Auburn's scholastic integrity," explains Betty DeMent '71, Associate Director of Alumni and

COMPARISON—The chart above shows contributions coming to Auburn in the past five fiscal years, with the exception of $11,540,699.55 received from the estate of Eleanor Ritchie in 1938-84.

Development. "And the better the institution's scholastic reputation, the more valuable the graduate's degree. We think young alumni will see the merit in gifts for scholarships. They'll have the satisfaction not only of doing something that supports Auburn University but enhances their own degrees as well."

The new program will be a division of Auburn Annual Giving, which was launched in 1965 to provide support for academic programs throughout the university. Members of the Society will receive a special edition T-shirt and, at the completion of their commitment, a certificate acknowledging their participation.

FIRST MEMBER—Mindy Conner '86, the first member of the Samford Society, sports the new Society's t-shirt. The shirt, navy blue with orange and white, is presented to members. Membership in the Samford Society which will be launched this month is made up of graduates from the five most recent graduating classes. Invitations to graduates from the classes of 1982 through 1986 will be mailed in mid-January. The Society's motto, "Maintaining Auburn Distinction," appears on the back of the shirt.
